

I am very concerned about the inadequate public discussion and coverage of this very important issue. The media consolidation that we are already experiencing is a serious threat to diversity of expression, and I see no indication that the FCC is giving sufficient weight to the fact that the airwaves are public property that are being released to private, profit-oriented organizations, with little impact of public oversight over their activities. I urge an extension and an opening up of this process.